John Roberts & Tony Barrand

Friday • April 16, 2004 • 8 PM

Advent Lutheran Church

Broadway & West 93rd Street • New York City

British born John Roberts and Tony Barrand have performed together for 35 years. They sing English folk songs of the sea, of rural pursuits, of social and sociable situations, of industrial toil and strife, and much more, typically arranging their material thematically to better illustrate the lives and the social history of the people who made and sang the songs. John and Tony punctuate their songs with tales, monologues, dances, and tunes, giving a more complete appreciation of the wealth, diversity, and vitality of the English folk tradition.

Two-part singing is the primary staple of their repertoire, and the stark harmonies of their well-balanced voices first brought them to the attention of the folk music community. They also draw upon a variety of instrumentation. John is a leading exponent of both Anglo and English concertina, as well as being a fine banjo and guitar player, while Tony is a skilled percussionist on drums, bones, and spoons. Once again, New York Pinewoods Folk Music Club is proud to present our long-time friends John and Tony in concert.
