Events Details

FOLK OPEN SING; Wednesdays, May 1 & June 5; 7pm

Join us on the first Wednesday of each month for an open sing. Bring your voice, instruments, friends, neighbors, children and a snack to share. At The Ethical Culture Society, 53 Prospect Park West (basement), Brooklyn (near 2nd St.). Directions: F train to 7th Ave.; Q train to 7th Ave.; 2/3 train to Grand Army Plaza. Hosted by Ethical Culture/Good Coffeehouse, Pinewoods Folk Music Club, Alison Kelley, and Frank Woerner. For info: Alison Kelley, 718-636-6341.

TRIBORO; Friday, May 3rd, 8 PM

Triboro is Phyllis Elkind from Manhattan, Don Friedman from Brooklyn, and Evy Mayer from the Bronx. Although its members hail from New York City, Triboro looks beyond the Hudson to other places and other times for songs and inspiration. They are an acoustic vocal trio that applies fine, three-part harmony to an eclectic mix of country flavored musical genres. Listen to Triboro and you will hear great old-time, new-time, Carter Family, C&W, bluegrass, and beyond. Presented with the cooperation of Polytechnic University: Admission: $10 (members, $9, Polytech students free).

At: Polytechnic University, Wunsch Hall, just over the Brooklyn or Manhattan bridges in Brooklyn; right off the Tillary St. exit from the BQE. (See map, page 10.) By train: A, C, F (Jay St.-Borough Hall) and M, N, R (Lawrence Street) are closest. #2, 3, 4, 5 are five min. walk (Borough Hall). All are 1st or 2nd stop in Brooklyn, 15-20 min. from midtown Manhattan. Go into the open Metrotech Commons—right across from the Marriott. The student center (Wunsch Hall) is at the far end of the Commons, beyond the trees, looks like an old brown church (which it was). Street parking is free after 7 on Jay St., Tillary St., or Flatbush Ave. Flatbush Ave 2 blocks south of Tillary Street has lots of meters which are legal after 7 pm (but tow-away before). If you park on Flatbush, walk into the commons 2 blocks West past the Chase Bank building. The Bank will be on your left, and a gray wooden wall (around a construction site) will be on your immediate right. Turn right at the corner of the wall and continue until it ends. The student center will be right there. Call for info: (718) 549-1344 (after 11 AM).

GOSPEL & SACRED HARP SING; Sunday, May 5th; 3PM

Join us for singing gospel, plus songs from the Sacred Harp book. This is 4-part harmony sung from written music, so you should be able to carry a tune; sight-singing helpful but not required. Bring food for a potluck supper (host is supplying drinks). At the home of Stu Shapiro, 86-15 Broadway, apt.14E, Elmhurst, Queens (718-592-8741). Subways: Take the “G” from Brooklyn or the “R” from Manhattan to Grand Ave, back end of train. (Some transfer points to the “R” train are Union Square; Times Square; the Roosevelt Ave station of the “E” and “F” train; and the 74th St., Queens, station of the #7). Stu is 1 Block North of Queens Blvd on B’ way. Look for tall building near subway exit. There is often weekend track work in Queens; you may want to call Transit Information or Stu for last minute changes! Other info: Isabel, 212-866-2029.

SEA MUSIC CONCERTS; Sunday, May 5, 3-5 PM; Tuesdays starting June 4, 6-8pm

Sea Music Concerts at South Street Seaport Museum, Fulton Street and the East River. Members of The New York Packet (including Frank Woerner, The Johnson Girls and Dan Milner & Bob Conroy) join featured guests. Co-sponsored with the South Street Seaport Museum. Latest concert details at <http://pages.prodigy.net/folkmusic/thenewyorkpacket.htm> Donation is $4, pay at the door.

Sunday, May 5: Mystic Seaport Chanteyman Don Sineti. The New York Times termed him "a hefty fellow with a deft hand, a genial manner and a booming voice" and we think you'll agree. A whale expert, Don was a founder of the Cetacean Society. He was also one of Stan Hugill's favorite chantey singers.

Tue, June 4 - Anything But The Sea concert with The New York Packet. If you don't think you like sea shanties, this is the week to come to South Street. New York's favorite sea music group will sing everything from blues to ballads to Woody Guthrie with not a sea song in sight or sound!

It's "Maytime" again. This month has concerts, singing events, and the Spring Weekend. Come and enjoy Triboro, and the Sea Music Concerts. The Sunnyside Song Circle, Riverdale Sing, Gospel and Sacred Harp Singing events, the Traditional Music Open Mike & Folk Music Jam and the Old Time String Band Get-together make for a busy and musical month. There is still time to sign up for the Spring Weekend, a wonderful way to spend the Memorial Day weekend.

Do you by any chance have a desire to help out our club and spread the word around? Think about joining the Publicity Committee (and any other committee for that matter.) Steve Suffet is the chair of the Publicity Committee. Call him at 718-786-1533. He'd love to hear from you..

Thank you to the volunteers who help to put out the newsletter each month and ensure that you get the word about what's going on in the club and in events throughout the city. They could always use more help. For the January Newsletter thank you to: Herb Feuerlicht, Isabel Goldstein, Suzanne Gottlieb, Brenda Peña, Rosanne Levitt, Anne Price, Morey Weisman, and Don Wade who delivered the pages from the printer. Won't you join us on Wednesday May 29th and help mail out the next newsletter? (See page 4).

REPORT FROM THE FINANCE COMMITTEE We have problems — PLEASE READ Responses Eagerly Sought

A report to the membership on the financial picture of the Club is long overdue. It has been very difficult recently to get a full financial picture together, due to the illness of a Treasurer and a change-over in computer systems. Truly heroic work by Helen Pinto (the Club owes her an enormous debt), has given us a virtually complete and up-to-date picture of our operating income and expenses of the last few years, and of our investments. Harvey Binder is now taking over as Treasurer. He is working closely with Helen, and with the others on the Finance Committee (Don Wade, Jerry Epstein, Chair), and we expect a seamless transition of a working system to him.

The records do not show the kind of picture that we need to see, and it is clear that action must be taken to bring our house into order. One purpose of this report is to solicit your input on a number of possible courses of action.

Before giving the dreary numbers, I think it important to say that there is no need whatever for any panic. The Club is in no danger of going under. Our members and friends, as always, have been very generous. But the current campaign (announced at recent weekends and concerts) is for a Special Projects Fund and for a permanent endowment to be used only in emergencies. We surely cannot routinely use these funds to cover operating costs. Our operating expenses and income must be brought into line. The question is how to do it.

For Fiscal Year 2001 (FY-01), the Club ran an operating loss of about $8000. In the current year (FY-02) we expect to run a loss in excess of $6000. Not a pretty picture. Again there is no cause for immediate alarm, but we must take steps, perhaps some painful steps, to get back on course.

A very high percentage of the Club's operations fall into three categories, Newsletter/Membership, Weekends, Concert series. The weekends do very well and help to support the other areas. The Board is aware that the costs of weekends are a problem for some, thus we have been reluctant to raise them. But we felt that a $5 surcharge per adult probably would not affect anyone's decision to come, and with the substantial numbers of people, that $5 surcharge makes a considerable dent in our problem. The fees for the Fall 2002 weekend will reflect this increase. We have three scholarship funds (Parker, Mayer, Appel); sometimes there are not a lot of applicants. Should the income from these funds be used in a somewhat different way, perhaps to lower costs on lower price rooms, or to give several partial scholarships, to make things a little easier for some?

It is the other two areas where we have had the big losses. First the concerts. The Folk Off Broadway series at Polytechnic is self-sustaining and contributes a bit to overhead. The Main series is budgeted to lose money, but has been losing far too much. When the Club dues were last raised (1995 perhaps), they were raised by $6, and $6 per member per year went direct to the Main series (the actual dues to support overhead have not been raised in a very long time). In exchange, the Main series is now free to members. We believe that this change was very positive, because it is a huge inducement for new members to join, and it has dramatically increased attendance at concerts, so we are reluctant to change policy. But clearly the dues structure has to be looked at. The Board has recently voted to increase the admission charge (affecting only non-members) from $13 to $18. Will this keep too many people away?

We have considered that perhaps unusually expensive acts must be run as special events, with all persons paying. We thought that maybe one main concert per year should be run as a special event. This would mean that the members would get only 5 free concerts a year (plus a discount at the special event). I am not confident of our ability to handle 7 main concerts, so the free concerts would probably be reduced by one. Your comments are invited.

Finally the general overhead/membership/newsletter finances. For most of its 37 years, the Club ran with membership dues and newsletter ad income pretty much balancing the costs of the newsletter and the general club overhead. This is now wildly out of whack. Surely some change in the dues structure is part of dealing with this.

But I believe we must also consider the expense side. For the first roughly 20 years of the Club we had no office. Different functions were carried out in the homes of Board (usually) members. Even the Newsletter was "printed" in Don's basement. Our first rented office space was a small room in the basement of a member's home. If we could find such an arrangement again, it would be a huge saving. Access is the issue. Call me with any ideas. Our current office space – and it is a very modest space – is expensive and the cost is promised to rise more. For the Newsletter, postage costs have risen steadily, and are about to rise again, and we seem to be forced to go to more and more double issues, so the costs here too are way up from say 10 years ago. We will continue to discuss what our options may be here as well, and ideas are always welcome.

All of these issues are complicated and have many ramifications. I cannot possibly discuss them in detail here. We are going to schedule a membership meeting at the Spring Weekend as an open forum on what our options are and what choices seem the least onerous. I strongly encourage all who are at the weekend to attend. Your input will be highly valued. The Board does not want to make these decisions without allowing for membership discussion. If anyone would like to participate but cannot be at the Weekend, please call me (718) 429-3437. I can provide more detail and open a discussion with you. One of the most important elements for you all to consider is that our membership base is really too small to support the level of our activities. For decades we stood at a steady state of about 600–620 memberships. We are now down near 500, and inching downward. It is my feeling that this may be the most critical issue of all, and the Board is investing in a new, greatly enhanced, membership brochure. We simply must attract many new members from the countless thousands in the area who would love us if they only knew we existed. I believe that the best possible source of new members is the members that we already have. So I am pleading for everyone reading this to sign up one or two new members in the coming year. If we could double our membership, we are out of the woods. Think about it. Think hard about it. Give gift memberships!

Adaya Henis

I am deeply grieved to have to report the untimely death of Adaya Henis on April 10th. She was diagnosed with ovarian cancer last May, had surgery and chemotherapy immediately, and was thought to be cancer free in July. A second round of chemo was instituted as a precaution, and when I last saw her in November, things were cautiously optimistic, but alas it was not to be. She was a truly extraordinary singer of Yiddish and Ladino songs. I met her first in 1969 or 1970 at a bitterly cold Washington Getaway weekend. I had never heard, nor had I ever heard of, Ladino music. When she started to sing, it was — well what can you say — one of those unforgettable experiences, both for the beauty of the songs (a huge discovery for me), but also because the way she sang them went straight to the heart, with power and without any unnecessary trappings. It didn't hurt my opinion of her that she was also outrageously funny (although I really found that out a lot later). She was I think just out of college at that time, where she was a friend of Clarice Kjerulff, something I did not find out until many years later. Interestingly, she also went to elementary school with Alice Backer in Pittsburgh. It is indeed a small world.

At that Washington Getaway, I asked how she had come to learn these songs. She certainly did not look or sound like she was from Spain or the Middle East, and I had no clue from the name "Henis" that she was even Jewish. She said that she had heard someone singing in Ladino when she was very young and she knew immediately that it was connected to something very deep within her. This feeling of connection is instantly clear in her singing and is totally winning. Her one recorded tape is a treasure. I found out only at the funeral that her parents were Israeli.

When my mother died in 1994, I asked Adaya to sing Rozhinkes mit Mandlen at the funeral, which my mother had always tried to gravel out without remembering the verses, or really the tune. In fact, until I had heard Adaya sing it, I wasn't quite convinced that it really had a tune! She agreed immediately to come up and would not accept pay. It was a moving experience for my family to hear this song, and it was moving to Adaya to be there. I saw her last in November when she came to the concert at Dick and Marlene Levine's house that I did with Jeff and Gerret Warner. She had the scarf over her bald head that said something was different. In the 25 years that the Levines have had concerts at their house, Adaya had never come, though she lived only a short distance away. But she came that night. After the formal concert I asked her to sing a song in Ladino. Jeff and Gerret who had never heard her were transfixed. She sang the same song that the Cantor sang at her funeral. Abe sings it too, I hope he will sing it for us at the Spring Weekend. The one about the rose. . . .

She is survived by her husband and two wonderful daughters. It is a great loss, but a treasure to have had among us.

A Remembrance

I first met Adaya Henis when we were both students at Douglass College in the late sixties. Douglass was a somewhat conservative women's college in those days, and Adaya and I were part of a small crowd of students that didn't conform to the Douglass norm. We considered ourselves the campus rebels. Of course, it would have been very hard for Adaya to conform to anyone's norm, since she knew so surely who and what she was. Adaya was imaginative, dramatic, and very intense.

In those days, Adaya was very involved in the campus theater, and she was by far the most gifted of all the student actors. She was absolutely dazzling onstage. Adaya was just as dazzling and dramatic offstage. My favorite memory of Adaya was running into her on one beautiful spring afternoon. She was literally leaping down the path crying "Sprrrring!! Sprrrring!!" to everyone she met. I said "Hi, Adaya." "Sprrrring! Sprrrring! Sprrrring!!" Adaya trilled, as she danced around.

People were surprised when Adaya announced that she was giving up the theater. She turned her attention to folk singing. Although I was interested in folk music at the time, I never heard her sing when we were in college.

We both graduated and went our separate ways. I would hear news of Adaya from time to time – how she married Bill Zagorski, and how she was performing as a folk singer. Our paths never crossed again until 1992 when Adaya was on the auxiliary staff for a Club weekend. It was both a delight to see Adaya again, and a surprise, for I had never heard her sing before. She was every bit as intense and brilliant a singer as she was an actor, and yet, she never allowed her intensity to overwhelm her material. The essence of each song came through with striking clarity, carried on her pure soprano voice.

I last saw Adaya last November, when she came to a house concert that Jerry was part of, at Dick and Marlene Levine's home in New Jersey. I was disturbed at that time to learn that Adaya was dealing with cancer, but she was so upbeat about her prognosis that I was not alarmed. We spent a pleasant evening chatting, catching up on our lives. As usual, Adaya glowed as she told me about her two daughters, now grown, and her husband. Her family was clearly central to her life. As always, I was touched by the warmth of her friendship. After the concert, when Jerry asked Adaya to sing something, I was struck anew by the beauty and grace of her singing. It is very hard for me to believe that such an intense light has been extinguished.
